MEETING OF TENNIS ENTHUSIASTS CALLED; THURSDAY NEXT

A meeting is to be held in Mr. Young's study at the Union church next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a tennis club among the followers of that line of sport. A good deal of business has to be gone through and a large gathering is requested. If you are interested go and see what is in store for this line this summer.

Last year a number of enthusiasts got together and built two courts at the rear of the Union church and this year it is the intention of those interested to form a regular club.

RED CROSS NOTES

The announcement that a Junior Red Cross Hospital for children will be opened in Calgary in April has met with response from the Junior organizations all over the province and they are all competing to get their quota of money raised for this purpose. The new institution will look after the cases of sick and crippled children which are taken in hand by the Juniors. Over 65 of these cases, mostly very serious, have already been cared for by the Junior Red Cross.

The following contributions have been received by the Red Cross for relief in rural districts:

Mrs. J. R. Rick and daughter left here for Lethbridge last week and to join Mr. Rick.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT UNION CHURCH

The anniversary services of the local Union church will be held on Sunday next. Rev. Geo. D. Armstrong, of Macleod, will be the preacher at both morning and evening services. Morning service at 11, evening at 7:30. Full choir will be in attendance at both these services.

Mr. Armstrong will also address the Sunday school in the afternoon.

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Mr. Armstrong will deliver a lecture at the church, for which a small fee will be charged.

The collections from both church services and Sunday school, together with proceeds from lecture, will be applied to the building fund.

It is hoped that large audience will turn out on Sunday and Monday to hear Mr. Armstrong, who is a powerful speaker.

The ladies of the Sewing Circle will serve tea after the entertainment, for which a nominal charge will be made.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Snow fell all of Tuesday and melted as fast as it fell.

Clair Snyder, of Blairmore, spent the week end here with his parents.

Mrs. Goldie, of Lethbridge, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Swart at present.

Mr. Doyle, who has been in a Lethbridge hospital for several days, is home again.

The gophers are out in plentiful numbers. The boys are shooting them with bows and arrows.

H. D. MacMillan and Ed. LaBrie attended the whist drive at Lundbreck on Wednesday last.

Messrs. W. Mackay, L. Hetherington, A. Blas, and N. Londot are visitors to the Calgary stock show.

Rev. Mr. Unsworth, who has been holding evangelistic services here very successfully for the past week, has gone to Lundbreck and points up in the Foothills country but will be back here for Thursday, Friday and Sunday again, we are very glad to say, as his meetings have been enjoyed very much and his influence has left a good impression with both old and young alike. Mr. Dunnington has ably led the singing at all these meetings.

"Deacon Dubb's Dilemma," played by local amateurs on Saturday night, was the best of its kind ever staged here. Each character was well represented and the actors deserve the credit due them. Those who took part in the play were: Miss Nellie McWilliams, Miss Anderson, Mrs. Bundy, Mrs. Bouthillier, Mrs. F. Tustian, Mr. George Ritson and Mr. Roland Easterbrook; while Hilda Hannon, Martha and Arthur Tustian, Helen and Jean Morrison, Clair Snyder and Mr. Franz gave musical numbers. The evening's entertainment came to a close by a solo by Mr. Dunnington, accompanied by Mrs. B. O. Morrow. We make special mention of this last rendition, as it is a treat to hear Mr. Dunnington sing. After the play, which lasted two hours and a half, the hall was cleared and dancing kept up till midnight. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. Near seventy dollars was realized by the Women's Institute, who put the play on.

GET YOUR PASSPORTS

Parties leaving here for other countries should be careful to secure passports before starting out. Last week a number of men left this district for Britain and other countries and were held up at Ottawa awaiting advice from local authorities.

"Well, I don't know about that," frowned Miss Flora thoughtfully. "Hattie always seemed to be a match between her and Mr. Smith, you know."

"Yes. But there wasn't one, was there?" twitted Jane. "Well, then, I shall stick to my original statement that Maggie Duff is a saint, all right, but not a marrying one—unless some one marries her now for her money, of course."

"As Aunt Maggie's stand for that!" scoffed Mellicent. "Besides, she wouldn't have to. Aunt Maggie's good enough to be married for herself."

"There, there, child, just because you are a loveless little piece of romance, just now, you needn't think everybody else is," her mother reproved her a little sharply.

"But Mellicent only laughed merrily as she disappeared into her own room. Speaking of Mr. Smith, I wonder where he is, and if he'll ever come back here," mused Miss Flora, aloud. "I wish he would. He was a very nice man, and I liked him."

"Goodness, Flora, you aren't getting romantic, too, are you?" teased her sister-in-law.

"Nonsense, Jane!" ejaculated Miss Flora sharply, buttoning up her coat. "I'm no more romantic than—than poor Maggie herself is!"

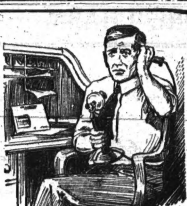

Two weeks later, to a day, came Miss Maggie's letter announcing her engagement to Mr. Stanley G. Fulton, and saying that she was to be married in Chicago before Christmas.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Re-enter Mr. Stanley G. Fulton

In the library of Mrs. Thomas Tyndal's Chicago home Mr. Stanley G. Fulton was impatiently waiting for the appearance of Miss Maggie Duff. In a minute she came in, looking charmingly youthful in her new, well-fitting frock.

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys.

Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble.

Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally told of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Chamberlain with the best results, and never fail to recommend these wonderful remedies."

entrance, gave her a lover's ardor, but almost instantly he had her off at her own length.

"Why, dearest, what's the matter?" he demanded.

"What do you mean?"

"You look as if it—something had happened—just exactly a bad something, but—What is it?"

Miss Maggie laughed softly. "That's one of the very oldest things about you, Mr. Stanley. Put John Smith, she sighed, nestling comfortably into the curve of his arm, as they sat down on the divan. "That you notice things so. And it seems so good to me to have somebody—"

"Poor lonely little woman! And to think of all these years I've wasted!"

"Oh, but, what! I'm not lonely now. And, listen—I'll tell you what made me look so funny. I've had a letter from Prince Yoo. You wrote them—about my coming marriage."

"Yes, yes," eagerly. "Well, what did they say?"

Miss Maggie laughed again. "Believe me, I'll tell you the letter for yourself. Stanley. It tells some things, toward the end, that I think you'll like to know," she said, and she hesitatingly, as she held out the letter she had brought into the room with her.

"Good. I'd like to read it," cried Fulton, whisking the closely written sheets from the envelope.

"My dear Maggie (Prince had written), Well, mercy me, you have given us a surprise this time, and no mistake. Yet we're not to you, but we're glad, and we hope you'll be awfully happy. You deserve it, all right. Poor Maggie! You've had such an awfully hard time all your life!"

Well, when your letter came, we were just going to Jim's for an old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner, so I took it along with me and read it to them all. They were all together, too, though I most bursted with the news all the way out.

To Aid Refugees

Great Britain Will Give Ten Millions To Transfer Russians

Plans for taking Russian refugees from Constantinople and elsewhere to Southern European states have been approved by the council of the League of Nations. It has decided also to have the task proceed under the supervision of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen who is high commissioner of the international committee for Russian relief.

The various countries will be asked by the council to help the transfer of refugees by issuing free identification papers and free visas to them. Great Britain is to give £10,000 toward the evacuation of Russians from Egypt, Cyprus and Malta.

Action has been taken by the B.C. Federal Government toward the expropriation of the land necessary to add the hot mineral springs known as Kootenay Mineral Springs to Kootenay Park. The development of these springs, it is felt, will be of benefit to the public as well as an improvement and attraction to the park.

JOSEPH SIAUD RECOMMENDS THE DODD'S REMEDIES

Duck Lake, Sask. (Special).—Joseph Siaud, a well-known resident here is a firm believer in the Dodd's Remedies.

"I believe I have the right to be," Mr. Siaud says. "For I have given them a thorough trial."

"I have used 4 boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and 4 boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and they have done me a lot of good. I don't feel any more from my kidneys now even when the weather changes."

"To anyone suffering from Kidney disease or Dyspepsia I recommend the Dodd's Remedies. Give them a trial before trying any other. It's a pure blood good health is assured. Ask your neighbors about the Dodd's Remedies."

"Yes. I shall send a copy each to Frank and Jim and Miss Flora, of course. That's the monument. I thought it due—Mr. John Smith. Poor man, it's the least I can do for him—the most—unless—"

"But, my dear Maggie, something was due the man," maintained Fulton, reaching for a small ink bottle to sign his name and placing it in Miss Maggie's hands.

"But—oh, Stanley, how could you?" she shivered, her eyes on the words the millionaire had penciled on the brown paper covering of the parcel. Sacred to the memory of John Smith.

"Open it," directed the man.

With obvious reluctance Miss Maggie loosened the paper covers and peered within. The next moment she gave a glad cry.

In her hands lay a handsome brown leather volume with gold letters, reading:—

Pains in Back, Limbs and Side Yield to "Nervine"

If you have failed to secure relief from other remedies, rub on lots of good old "Nervine," the strongest most penetrating pain relief on the market. "Nervine" acts deeply on small pains and is the surest to drive out the big ones. It's because every drop of "Nervine" rubs in deeply that it has the ability to sink in and drive away pain that ordinary oil liniments won't touch. Large 35c bottles at all dealers.

New Variety of Wheat

Oregon Man Evolves Wheat With Smut-Resistant Resistance

Wheat, totally resistant to smut or rust, heretofore unknown, for plant pathologists, has been evolved, as a result of experiments conducted at the Government Experimental Station in Oregon, by B. B. Stephens, superintendent, and his assistants. He has succeeded in producing four distinct varieties of wheat that are completely immune from smut, he said. From these, he has brought forth a number of hybrid varieties of great promise, by crossing his smut-resistant wheats with some of the most productive of the present varieties grown.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRINGTIME

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A

Tool is All You Need

Not sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite flicks, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuritis. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. "What you need in the spring is a tonic that will enrich the blood and build up the nerves." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to enrich the blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed, men, women and children bright, active and strong. Miss S. L. McEachron, Nairn P.O., N.B., says: "I have been in the habit of taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring and they keep me in the best of health. I think it is entirely due to the use of these pills that I always have such good health."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail for 25 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wireless Lifesaving at Sea

Apparatus Developed in Britain Has Proved Its Usefulness

The wireless direction finder, which was first devised and developed in Great Britain, has proved of immense value in "bricks" help to disabled ships. The function of the apparatus is to enable the vessel which receives the S.O.S. signal to ascertain the direction from which the appeal comes. During recent storms in the Atlantic a steamer, practically a wreck, and for 36 hours the crew was huddled on deck without food. The captain sent out an S.O.S. message giving what he thought was his position, but as he was in error the first six ships which went to the rescue were unable to find him—no in fact searched unsuccessfully for 12 hours. Eventually a British vessel with a direction finding apparatus on board arrived on the scene just in time to save most of the crew. The vessel unfortunately foundered before all hands could be got on board the rescuing boat.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsmooth stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are harmful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

What Do Office Boys Do?

Investigation Into Spare Time Works Leads to Interesting Results

Have you ever noticed the office boy whose duty it is to sit in the reception room of the larger offices and take in the cards of Mr. Smith or Mr. Jones to the Boss? Perhaps three or four callers come in every hour during the day. What do the busy bee in the intervals?

A self-appointed Committee on the Conservation of Energy and Promotion of Industry Among Office Boys was asked for a synopsis of the results of its investigations.

Of 1,748 office boys whose habits were subject to the investigation, it was determined:

Twelve per cent. read movie magazines and memorize the lives of movie stars.

Seventeen per cent. print their names in various types over seventy times daily.

Eleven per cent. watch the door from the hall, while they piten penies with other future directors and presidents.

Three per cent. collect postage stamps and spend their time sorting them.

Seven per cent. practice typing. "The large brown fox kumpea over the lazy dog."

Four per cent. sleep.

Three per cent. sit and think.

Six per cent. sit.

The remaining boys are reported by the committee to be sufficiently clever in action so that even their bosses do not know what they do!

River Traveling Sideways

Stream in Alaska Trying to Reach Old Level

The largest Alaskan river emptying into the Arctic Ocean, the Colville, is gradually sliding down hill. It flows north parallel to an eastern range of hills and actually part way up the slope of the hills, so that if the stream's western bank were cut, the water would abandon the present bed and flow down into the bottom of the valley. The western side of the river is deep, where the current is eating into the bank year after year, but the eastern side abounds into a broad story beach which shows by its great width how far the river has already travelled sideways. The explanation of the Colville's eccentric conduct is that after it formed its bed and valley, as a normally behaved river bed does, there was a later correction of the earth's crust, lifting the stream bed; part way up the side of the slope. Ever since the river has been trying to get down to its old level again.

WHY SHOULD I ADVERTISE?

A press agent, travelling ahead of a circus, called on the owner of a general store, the only merchant in a little town.

"Brother," he said, "when the show gets in town we'll have the usual parade, and I want to sell you advertising space during the parade."

"Whereabouts," the storekeeper asked.

"On the elephant. He's the greatest thing in the procession. I'll paint your name on each side of the elephant, and there won't be a man, woman or child for miles around who won't see your ad."

"There's not one of 'em don't know me already," the merchant replied
"and, what's more, they all trade here. Why should I advertise? I don't need it."

The circus man reflected. He looked across the street and felt stumped.
He looked up the street and decided that he was stumped. Then, he look-down the street, as far as the church.
Then he turned to the storekeeper.

"Nice church down there," he said.

"How long has that been there?"

"Forty years, I guess," said the merchant. "Most everybody around here is a member."

"That church has been there forty years," said the circus man, "and most everybody in town belongs—
AND YET THEY RING THE BELL
EVERY SUNDAY MORNING."

THE INCOME TAX SIMPLIFIED

In the first place it must be worked out by algebra, astronomy, trigonometry, syntax, calculus, and palindrome; and should not be undertaken till competent authority certifies your ability to prove material products assumed by and one producing nothing during the taxable period has an ex-cessed.

If your income is $2400 a year and you own a ton of coal or a diamond ring and an automobile, and are married to a brunette girl 26 years old you take the amount of the income, add your personal property, subtract your street number, multiply by your height, add the date of your birth and divide by your waist measure.

If there is a child in the family, subtract $800 from your income, add the amount of your personal property, subtract the size of your collar, omitting fractions—divide by the square root of your telephone number, add the child's age subtract the amount you have given the church during year, multiply by time of day, divide by 4.1144, and add the size of your hat, with and without band. If there is a second child in the family, or you keep a canary, divide by the number of your automobile license tag, subtract the number of buttons on your vest, take six per cent of the answer and add seven-eighths the weight of your mother-in-law. If wife has separate income and joint return is contemplated, divide by sum of her glove and shoe sizes (6&7 equals 18) instead of automobile tag license.

After you get it all figured out and have arrived at an answer which may be right and which probably is not, you won't have to pay taxes of any name or nature, for they will have you in the booby hatch—strapped down.

WOULD MAKE DANCE PATHWAY TO HEAVEN—AND NOT TO HELL

NEW YORK.—Six barefooted girls clothed in the loose, flowing garments of another age, danced before the Veiled Sanctuary in the Church of St. Mark's in the Bowery recently while spotlights played upon them and smoke blown from huge incense pots curled about their graceful forms.

Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector, described the dance as "an en-rhythmic mutual expressive announcement." He had been faced, he said, with the necessity of finding a new utility for his church or closing it.
Therefore the dance—a thing of beauty—as a new means of teaching people to worship.

"Sculptors of Greece brought about a revival of the Greek religion by embodying the aspirations of religion in their work and giving it great beauty," he said, "so why cannot a church like this, if it gets the backing of public opinion, bring about a renaissance of religious worship through beauty through the plastic arts, through the dance? If we cannot make the dance a pathway to heaven, it will be a pathway to hell.
That is my ideal, and I am trying to realize it."

HOW EDITORS START THINGS

The editor was a believer in "yellow" journalism and ran this as a leading editorial: "The business man of this town who is in the habit of bugging his stenographer, his better self, or we will publish his name."

The next day thirty-seven business men called at the office, paid up their subscriptions a year in advance, left thirty-seven columns of advertising to run indefinitely, and told the editor to pay attention to fool stories.

Contributions should be made to the nearest Red Cross unit, or to the Provincial Headquarters of the Red Cross, O'Sullivan Block, Calgary.

Speaking of the work of the Junior Red Cross, the newly established Red Cross magazine says:

"The old idea of teaching abstract things without application to the life or society was stupid, and it failed.
Today the new idea of letting the child work out things for itself under direction is sane and succeeds. The old method left little or no impression and was forgotten when the school life closed behind the child. The training becomes a part of the life of a child—a habit that persists.

"The Red Cross today is the greatest existing force for diminishing suffering and adding to the sum of the world's happiness."

GUIDE TO ALBERTA

Wrigley's Alberta Directory for 1928 has just been issued, and forms an excellent book for reference of the Province.

The directory proper covers 2136
cities, towns, villages and settlements treated alphabetically, with a description, giving location in section, township, range, Federal and Provincial Electoral districts. Land and Judicial Districts, also Municipality Number, population, railroad or nearest station, express, telegraph, telephone and banking point, value of lands, crops averages, etc.

The classified business directory indexes the business interests of the Province under some 600 headings, and is excellent for quick reference.

In addition to these main sections, there is an introductory, having to do with the early history, resources and development of Alberta. Among the wide variety of subjects treated, are included area and surface, agricultural resources, with statistical tables and articles on mixed farming, dry farming, irrigation, crops, live stock, dairying, wool production, co-operative organizations, minerals, timber, game and fisheries, education, schools, universities, highways, bridges, ferries, the scope of the municipal and industrial development, and also transportation facilities are fully discussed.
Half-tones and charts are used to illustrate this excellent and compre-

A WORLD OF BLUE SKIES

We know that the surface of Mars is comparatively flat—that there are no mountains worthy of the name on our neighboring world; nor are there any large bodies of water on the Martian surface; if ever there were permanent oceans they have long since disappeared. The planet's atmosphere too, is very rare—"thinner at parts by half," according to Lowell, "than the air upon the summit of the Himalayas;" and its surface-pressure, Pickering believes, is likely to lie between one-half and one-tenth of that at the Earth's surface. The Martian atmosphere is much clearer than ours. It is not, however, absolutely cloudless. "Clouds," Pickering wrote in 1914, "are nearly always visible on the disc, but they are not usually reported because they are difficult to observe. . . . In the polar regions the clouds are sometimes so white as to be with difficulty distinguished from the snow. After they have disappeared at the poles, the ground is often seen to be white with freshly fallen snow. Sometimes cloud-masses partially conceal a whole hemisphere, and cloudy nights appear to be frequent." During the opposition of 1920 the observers at the Lowell Observatory were impressed by the unusual haziness and cloudiness of the Martian atmosphere. But we may say that Mars is usually a world of blue skies and bright sunshine.—Rev. H.
Macpherson in "Discovery."

EVERY GREAT WAR TRACED TO DEPRIVITY OF WOMAN

NEW YORK, April 1.—"The cause of the next war—the flapper—struts up Fifth Avenue today, and her sister out on Main Street as per."

This was the opinion expressed today by the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Norris.
"Texas Tornado," who has come to New York to save the city by a series of revival meetings.

"The flapper will bring about this country's downfall just as surely as Delliah caused Samson's," said Dr.
Norris.

"Every great war has been traced to the depravity of women and they never were as bad as they are today.

"When a woman shows her knees you can see the finish of her and that of the nation as well.

"We caused the Kaiser for starting

"Our statesmen are scrapping the battleships; they ought to be slapping the flappers."

"The modern girl is 100 times worse than the girl of the last century and the country girl is just as bad as her city cousin. Once upon a time country girls were pure but gasoline spoiled that. We have closed our our red light districts and put them on rubber tires.

"Women smokers are indecent. The spark from a woman's cigarette is going to touch off a conflagration that will destroy this country within 50 years.

"Jezebel was the worst woman in the world. She was the first queen of the shifters. The last thing she did before she died was to paint her face, and then the dogs ate her."

LONGER SKIRTS, LOWER STREET-CAR STEPS, OR BLINDERS FOR MEN

Chicago.—Longer skirts for women lower steps for street cars or blind-ers for men. Chicago must have one of the three in order to prevent a steady increase in accidents. Alderman Lee Klein declared today, in introducing an ordinance before the city council providing for lower street car steps. The women wear such short skirts that when they start to climb up the high street car steps—well, the men can't seem to keep their eyes to the front and many accidents occur, particularly among motorists, explained Mr. Klein. The proposed ordinance was referred to a committee.

For Return Of Natural Resources

Prof. Martin Says Manitoba Has Been Killed as Colony by Dominion.
For Fifty Years.

"With regard to its public lands, the province of Manitoba has been kept as a colony by the Dominion for 50 years," declared Professor Chester Martin, at a luncheon of the Kiwanis Club in the Port Garry Hotel, when addressing the members on the fight being made by Manitoba for the return of its natural resources, in the course of which he outlined the progress made in that struggle.

He said the three prairie provinces were alone among all the original and later provinces of Confederation, and among all self-governing provinces and dominions of the British commonwealth of nations, in having their natural resources administered from without and for the purposes of the Dominion. Provincial rights over public lands were vindicated three generations ago by the very provinces that had opposed the same rights for Manitoba. The Dominion obtained the land in 1870 for nothing, as Sir George Carter had said, and kept them to build a transcontinental railway. The fight for provincial rights had been a long one but the province steadily was narrowing the issue and certainly would come into its own if it ran true to form.

The right of the province, said the speaker, to its lands as from 1870 had been fairly established as a constitutional right and nobody yet had ventured to take the field against that principle. This really included everything else for it implied the right to all that was left of the resources and to compensation for those disposed of by the Dominion.

Another definite point had been achieved, Sir Robert Borden had insisted that even if the lands were returned to the provinces the Dominion should make certain reservations with regard to a free homestead policy and immigration. Those reservations had gone by the board and Premier McElwain stated in a letter last April that the lands were to come to the provinces without "ifs," "ands" and "buts."

Within the last month, he thought, a third point had been achieved. The eastern provinces had always stood in the way of a settlement, but it seemed they had given up the old purchase theory but always insisted that the terms proposed by the three prairie provinces in 1912 were an attempt to get the land and a cash subsidy into the bargain. That proposal was to retain the present subsidy as compensation for resources already alienated. Manitoba, he thought, had succeeded in excluding the other provinces altogether from the issue by withdrawing the proposal of 1912 and basing its whole claim on full provincial rights as from 1870. Thus the claim was not one of subsidy but of lands, and lands only. Premier King, in a recent letter, had asserted that if the eastern provinces felt they had any claim that claim would have to be considered on its merits, and it should not be an obstacle to the settlement of matters between the Dominion and the prairie provinces. That, considered Prof. Martin, constituted very substantial progress. Some persons had advocated taking the matter into the courts to get their lands, but as far as that was concerned they could get them tomorrow if they could settle the matter of compensation for lands already disposed of by the Dominion. If full provincial rights, as from 1870, were conceded unreservedly, concluded the speaker, there would seem to be nothing which could not be settled by arbitration.—Free Press.

A New Source of Radium

Mine Has Been Opened Up in Cornwall, England

Radium is perhaps the most costly substance in the world. A few grams of it are worth a fortune. This high cost is due to the enormous amount of material which has to be treated in order to obtain a minute quantity of radium, but its costliness is atoned by the extraordinary power which resides in even the tiniest particles of this wonderful substance. A new source has recently been opened up in Cornwall, England, the ancient site of the tin and copper industries. A uranium mine was opened out before the war and found to be suitable for the production of radium, but work was suspended during the period of hostilities. The necessary plant and machinery for active operations have, however, now been erected and the world's supply of radium is likely to receive a most useful accession.

Canada Claims Wrangel Island

Base Ownership on Occupation by Survivors of Karikuk Expedition

Wrangel Island will come to Canada. That it is expected will be the upshot of the planting of the British flag there on Sept. 21, 1921, by the last Arctic expedition organized by Vilhjalmur Stefansson. The assumption is that the island was formally claimed in the name of Great Britain to avoid international complications with a view to its being eventually transferred to Canada as part of the Dominion. As a matter of fact, Canada has a previous claim by right of occupation. For eight months, following the loss of the Karikuk of the Canadian Arctic expedition of 1913, Wrangel Island was occupied by a body of the survivors, three of whom died there. This actual occupation of the island, it is stated, would constitute a basis for ownership without actually holding the flag or a formal claim being made. The value of the island is understood to lie chiefly in fur and seal fisheries. Seal and walrus are said to be plentiful.

In connection with claim to ownership of Wrangel Island an important point has arisen. The island bears the name of Baron Wrangel, a Russian explorer, and the view is prevalent that Russia may have some prior claim to ownership. Research it is understood has already been made into the point and so far as can be learned, representatives of Russia never actually landed on the island nor made any formal claim to its possession.

The island lies west of Behring Straits but sufficiently north of Siberia, it is stated, to be outside the Russian sphere of influence.

Organizing Staff for Crop Reports

Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture Appointing Correspondents

Organization of the staff of field men of the statistics branch of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture for the 1922 wheat growing season has commenced.

The statistical correspondents are scattered all over the province—there are approximately 150 of them—and each one has been assigned to his territory. During the active farming season it is his duty to supply information to the agricultural department on the progress made by the farmers in his district.

The reports deal with spring seedings, growth of the crops, harvesting operations, etc. At the close of the season the government report on the grain yield of the province is tabulated from information supplied by the field men. Sales of farm products and livestock are recorded also for the annual reports of the department.

During the winter months no reports came from the field men, and reorganization is necessary every year. This work is carried out usually in March, so that the first move made by the farmers towards seeding the year's crop may be reported.

Saskatchewan Seed Relief

Distribution of Seed Grain in the Drought Areas

The Field Crops Branch of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, which has been in progress since seed grain in the unorganized areas, states that it is expected there will not be as large an amount of seed distributed this spring as heretofore, as only the most deserving farmers are being considered at all and these will be granted a minimum quantity to keep the farms going.

Some parts of Southwestern Saskatchewan had fairly good crop returns last year, and no seed will be required in such districts this year. Other localities suffered from the hot winds and drought and in these parts the government will give assistance to purchase seed for well prepared land. Only lands broken or summer-fallowed in 1920 and 1921 will be considered in such grants; also an applicant receiving assistance must give an undertaking that he will properly summerfallow and cultivate an area equal to at least one-half of that for which seed is being supplied.

Textile Industry in Canada

The total value of cotton textile goods produced in Canada in 1920, according to a report of the Bureau of Statistics, was $91,000,000. The total capital invested in the industry was placed at $76,442,000. There were 9,573 male and 8,052 female employees, engaged in the work, salaries and wages totalling $13,600,000. The total new or partly manufactured materials used in the industry imported was $106,775,000 and the total value of the trade's exports was $2,518,000.

TO SAVE THE CHILDREN

A group of Russian children such as are being saved from death by Canadian contributions

Russia's government may have sinned; but her little children have not. Russia's people, a vast horde, but dimly conscious, if at all, of social responsibility other than that which each man felt for his own immediate family, may have brought added trouble and disorganization to a war-torn world. Her little children had nothing to do with it, and yet it is the little children of Russia that are faced with the hideous, overpowering, brutal of it all. They are not facing it; it is too great for them. In millions they are tottering to the ground to end their short lives of unrelieved horror in one last agonized spasm.

In the famine-stricken provinces of Russia there are, or were 33,000,000 people. Millions already have died of starvation; millions more must die. Men and women, patient, humble peasants who have had no hand, no thought, in the making of the unspeakable conditions that have swept over their once happy land. These know they must die, are almost content to die, finding in death the end of suffering and the cessation of horror.

But their children—the parents are human beings; if they were mere animals the long protracted death agonies of their little ones would still be unbearable. To most of them there comes no help. The task of feeding their children first and then themselves is too great, they die and their children are alone to wander about the country in quest of something, anything to devour. Little claws that should be the pretty hands of children dig in the ground for roots, except when the ground is frozen, and misshapen little spectres crawl from refuse heap to rotten cunnet to see if one small, eatable fragment may not be overlooked.

Again, if they were animals it would be different, and easier. Instinctively they would know how to wrest a living from Mother Nature. But little children must be fed. They must have food found for them, and in Russia there is none, so they must die. Death is not the worst of it. If a peaceful death were all they suffered, it would not be so bad. It is the hideous horror of the draw-out struggle, and it is helpless little children that are suffering. They are suffering today and must continue to suffer to death, unless—

Unless the civilized well-to-do people of the world hear their awful cry for help, and give that help quickly, it will be too late for countless thousands of children. The call has come to Canada with evidence far too horrible to print. The photographs reproduced herewith merely suggest others, more dreadful, that cannot be published.

Will Canada, land of happy, healthy children, heed the call? The appeal is being made in the belief that she will. The "Save the Children Fund" has opened an office in the Elgin Building, Ottawa, and the Canadian people are urged to send their subscriptions now to Sir George Burn, treasurer of the fund at that address. One dollar will feed a child for one month; $500 will feed one hundred children until next harvest.

"He gives twice who gives quickly."

Buffalo Fur to be Sheared

Can be Used as Substitute for Wool in Manufacture in Blankets

There are 8,000 American bison, commonly known as buffalo, in captivity, and it is calculated that, if sheared, the fur of these animals would furnish 360,000 pounds of raw material that could be used as a substitute for wool in the manufacture of blankets, sweaters, socks or other products. That buffalo skin is a greater warmth retainer than any other hide was well known to northern pioneers, and it has now been demonstrated in a practical way in Canada that the hair or wool when sheared from the pelt has real commercial value. Buffalo cannot be sheared as sheep are, because of their strength and pugnacity. It will therefore be necessary to handle them in some manner similar to the way unbroken horses are held when being branded. Arrangements are now being made in Canada to shear 5,000 head of buffalo at Wainwright, Alberta.

Field Crop Values at $125,000,000

Alberta's 1921 field crop is officially valued at $125,000,000, while the value of dairy products during the same period amounted to $25,500,000. There were 4,640,000 acres planted to wheat and 2,139,000 acres to oats, from which yields of $3,000,000 and 64,000,000 bushels respectively were recorded.

True, Hard-Headedness

Value of Scientific Investigation Conducted on Sound Basis

A large number of people who call themselves "hard-headed" continue to regard scientific research as a fad. It means that they must be deliberately blind and prejudiced, for if any thing in modern times has justified itself in dividends, it is scientific investigation, conducted on a sound basis.

The Council of Scientific and Industrial Research at Ottawa points out that the great laboratory of the General Electrical Company at Schenectady is maintained at the annual cost of over half a million dollars, and employs seventy-five investigators, including among them several who are eminent in the world of pure science.

One product of that laboratory is the tungsten lamp, now manufactured by twenty-two factories in different parts of the continent. This lamp, according to a very careful estimate made in 1921, was, at that time, effecting a power saving value of $240,000,000 per annum. Since then, their research has improved the tungsten lamp nearly 25 per cent. in its efficiency, and its use has been increased about four-fold.

Alberta Has Multiplex Telephone

Nearly one thousand cities, towns, villages and hamlets in Alberta are linked up by the Alberta Government Telephone system, the total assets of the system being placed at twenty-three million dollars. The carrier system of multiplex telephony over the lines between Calgary and Edmonton, the first in Canada and the fifth in the world, has been a complete success, three separate conversations being possible over the same pair of wires at the one time.

When Queen Victoria ascended the throne, not more than 40 per cent. of the people of Great Britain could write their names.

Machine Records Heart-Beats

Is Being Used in National Hospital at London

There is a wonderful machine in use at the National Hospital for Diseases of the Heart, London, which could record your heart-beats from miles away from the hospital.

This machine, the electro-cardiograph, is fixed in a basement at the hospital. Wires through which a weak electric current passes lead from it through three floors and connect with pads on the patient's wrists. Passing through the patient's body, the current repeats his heart-beats, which vibrate on a delicate wire "pointer." The motion of this "pointer" is photographed.

"It is practically certain," an expert said, "that a person's heart-beats could be recorded at a long distance by connecting the apparatus and the person's wrists with telephone wires. But a lot of things would militate against good results. The ringing of a telephone bell near the patient would, for instance, be recorded on the instrument and photographed."

Sir Sam Hughes Style

The story told at Guelph by Col. David MacCrac about the forming of the late Gen. Sir Sam Hughes at his swiftest: Col. MacCrac went to Ottawa to offer his services. He desired to organize a battery for active service. He was admitted to an interview, and was greeted with the words:

"Hello, MacCrac, do you think you can raise a battery of field artillery?"

"I can try," I said.

"All right, good-bye," said the late minister of militia; and so, concluded Col. MacCrac, the 43rd came into existence.—Toronto Star.

Should Find Use For Helium Gas

Valuable Natural Resource of Canada Escapes Unused Into Air

While most U.S. authorities continue to state that helium gas is only to be found there, Canada is wasting it, according to our own scientists. It is estimated that every day of the week millions of dollars worth of helium are wasted because no one has discovered a use for it. Indeed a recent deputation to the federal government mentioned this gas as an argument in favor of the continuance of scientific research in Canada. In a pamphlet, the scientists carried as proof of their assertions they stated that helium "is contained in our natural gas and escapes unused into the air. Can we find another use for helium besides the filling of a balloon? Here is enough money to pay off our railway debts. The research council has promoted the study of this question; the material is available; it is now a matter of finding uses in times of peace for this gas of which Canada can become one of the largest producers."

This Western Canadian natural resource has only been thought of so far as a non-inflammable medium for use in airships. It is held that the disaster to the British-made balloon at Hull, or to the Italian dirigible to the United States more recently, would have been impossible had the chambers been inflated with helium. One newspaper says that things might have been different had the Roma's gas been helium. The dirigible, of 1,100,000 feet, not been filled with hydrogen. Non-inflammable helium was the levitating gas used when the Roma went on her first trial flight last December. But it had been planned to send the ship—the largest semi-rigid airship in the world—on a spring cruise over the country to demonstrate her fitness to cross the Atlantic. In her bag had been the whole available supply of helium in the United States. Flying, officials wanted that for the spring journey, so they pumped it into tanks and substituted hydrogen.—Brandon Sun.

Will Publish Letters

Of Queen Victoria

Deal With Thrilling Record of Great Britain's History

Wide interests has been excited by the announcement that the King has directed the publication, through Mr. John Murray, of a further series of Queen Victoria's letters.

It was by the command of King Edward that three volumes of selections from her correspondence, covering the years of 1837-1841—from her accession to the throne to the death of the Prince Consort—were published in 1907. The three volumes, dealing with such a distant period, were of more interest to the historian than to this generation. But the forthcoming issue of Queen Victoria's letters deals with not only a more recent, but a more thrilling period.

But for the war it would have been impossible to publish the volume of Queen Victoria's correspondence now arranged for. The period from 1861 onwards witnessed the rise of Prussia into the German Empire and the self-aggrandizement of the Hohenzollern dynasty.

That is the epoch in which these letters were inspired and written. It was also the time when Gladstone and Disraeli contended the suffrages of the British people, and when each in turn became her Prime Minister and chief adviser of the Crown. This Royal correspondence will show a great light upon not only domestic but world politics.

He'd Been Swindled

Sam, the odd man on the farm, returned from a holiday in London with a scarf pin that contained a diamond of no usual size.

It was the pride of his heart and the envy of his village companions, and he took it to a jeweller from them as to its value with high scorn. His employer, after a week of basking in its radiance, asked Sam about its history.

"Sam," he said, "is it a real diamond?"

"Well," replied Sam, "if it ain't been done out of five shillings!"

The Weekly Provincial News Bulletin

Issued by Publicity Commission, Government Buildings, Edmonton

The legislature concluded its session this week after having been in session since February 2nd. Up till last Friday, a total of 97 bills had been introduced. At the session in 1921 a total of 97 bills were passed. Since Thursday last, three sessions a day have been held, in order to expedite business and conclude this week.

The estimates for the coming year were passed by the house, the final item being considered on Thursday night. The estimates provide, among other things, for expenditure of $2,000,000 in construction on the telephone system, chargeable to capital, of $2,218,000 for construction, improvements and payment of interest on bonds, on railway lines controlled by and endorsed by the government, and of $10,000 for drainage district on capital account, and $15,000 towards colonization of irrigation districts. In public works, there is provided $285,000 for construction of the home for mentally deficient children at Oliver, near Edmonton, and $502,000 to be spent upon the new normal school and technical institute at Calgary. The usual grants to exhibition, and agricultural societies are given but have been reduced from last year. Provision is made for further assistance to creche work in the province and for assistance in poultry marketing. The only department where any great increase in expenditure has been permitted is the health department, in which $288,000 is allowed for hospital grants and $114,000 for tuberculosis work. Provisions has also been made by the government for a $500,000 bond payment during the year. A total of $140,000 is included to care for grants for unemployment relief, and grants to the G. W. V. A., Red Cross and similar organizations.

Considerable interest during the week centred in the liquor amendments introduced by Hon. Mr. Brownlee, providing means for stricter enforcement of the liquor act. These amendments were passed on Thursday R. C. Edwards, Calgary, introduced an amendment to provide for a plebiscite within a year, on sale of beer, but this was defeated by an overwhelming vote. The liquor amendments occasioned a long debate, in which many members placed their views of the liquor act on record.

Provisions have been introduced in the wild lands tax act which will make it possible to remove from wild land taxation, lands found to be unfit for cultivation or pasture. Enclosed land leased for grazing is also removed from the scope of the act.

The new women's institute act which put all women's institutes on the same footing with respect to extension work carried on by this branch of the agricultural department, has been passed by the house, after considerable debate.

During discussion on estimates Mr. Brownlee made the announcement that the government was making a survey of the whole question of child welfare work, and would likely have new suggestions to offer at the next session of the house.

The bill creating the superannuation system for civil servants has passed the house. In committee, the bill was amended to provide that, for past services, employees would be given credit for 1-50th of the average salary for the years spent in service previous to the act, instead of 1-75th, as had at first been intended. The system will cost the government about $100,000 a year, in its contributions. The employees contribute four percent of salaries a year, the government making a like contribu-

The official title of Fred Smalley, efficiency officer, is to be changed to that of civil service commissioner. Mr. Smalley, in addition to his other duties will likely have charge of the administration of the new superannuation system.

By agreement with the government benches, Dr. Stats, the only medical practitioner in the house, has introduced a new bill to amend the medical professionals act. The bill, among other things, provides further opportunity for disciplining members of the medical association, and also makes changes with respect to operation of the medical council.

The amendments to the city charters of Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge were passed during the week. A division took place on one clause in the Edmonton charter, the majority favoring the clause which will give the drug stores in Edmonton the right to sell all lines of their goods, save cameras and photographs, after six o'clock.

During the week a bill providing for the new taxes proposed by the government was introduced.

A new married women's act has been introduced giving a married woman the same property rights and responsibilities as an unmarried woman.

Amendments to the school assessment ordinance will provide that school assessments will be made on the basis of the equalized assessment in municipalities, instead of the former system of acreage basis.

On Friday afternoon, the house passed a resolution from Mr. Sparks of Wetaskiwin, which he had previously introduced and withdrawn, and re-introduced. This urged a revulsion on by the dominion government of all farm stock and equipment held by soldier-farmers under the land settlement scheme, at present replacement costs, and that the indebtedness of these soldier-farmers in this respect be fixed on that basis, due allowance being made for sums already paid by the soldiers. An amendment introduced by Capt. Bowen, that the provincial government should bear half the loss between purchase price and present values, was defeated.

On Friday afternoon a resolution introduced by Hon. J. E. Brownlee was passed by the house, expressing the opinion that there should be substantial reduction in freight rates on basic commodities, particularly products of the farm, and thus encourage production and bring to an end the discrimination between eastern and western rates. The resolution also protests the re-enactment of the amendment to the railway act giving the railway commission right to override agreements in force.

One of the important acts of this session was that introduced on Friday by Hon. Mr. Brownlee to provide some protection for farmers in the drought areas from seizure of all proceeds of their 1922 crops by creditors. This act seeks to set up an organization, by creating drought areas and establishing a commissioner and deputy commissioners, which will supervise relations between farmers in these areas and their creditors. Provision is made that such part of the crop of 1922 as is necessary to provide food, clothing and seed grain for one year, until Oct. 1, 1923, shall be exempt from seizure. Provision is also made that on order of the Lieut.-Gov. in council, legal action towards seizure of property of any resident in such district may be stayed until consent of a supreme or district court judge who may be designated by the government is obtained.

There is a provision, however, for proceedings by creditors to protect themselves in certain cases where a necessity of the debtor is in grave doubt. Even in such cases, there is to be a delay of 30 days in executing writs of attachments to provide opportunity for settlement of the case if possible.

On Saturday during discussion on amendments to the Medical Profession Act, Hon. J. E. Brownlee announced the intention of the government to propose an amendment which would suspend the operation of the medical profession act with respect to chiropractors for one year, until the government could investigate and introduce legislation with respect to these practitioners.

Important provisions in the new Tax Sale Relief Act, just passed by the legislature, which provides for extension of time for redemption of certain lands from tax sales, are called to the attention of residents of the municipalities. Under this new act the time for redemption of all land included in plans registered in the Land Titles Office and all lands included in the corporate limits of towns and villages, has been extended until May 31st of this year. In this connection the secretary treasurer of a town or village or municipality is required to publish a notice to this effect twice in a publication in the district, and to call attention to the fact that lists of these lands so in a card can be procured from him. In the case of farm lands, which were included in the 1920 tax sale, the time for redemption is extended until next November 1st, and the procedure in this connection is outlined in the new act. In the case of cities the same procedure applies as in the case of towns and villages.

The death of C. O. Wright, member of the legislature for Ribstone, took place Tuesday of last week at midnight, shortly after the session had adjourned. He had been ill with pneumonia for less than a week. The funeral took place at Hughenden, Mr. Wright's home, the Premier and other ministers and members being in attendance. Mr. Wright's death will make three vacancies in the legislature, the other two being that of Whitford, formerly represented by J. S. Shandro, and that of Sedgewick, formerly represented by Hon. Charlie Stewart.

Meetings are now being held in the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation District, to consider plans for the listing of farm lands in that area and their colonization of the district.

A dispatch from Ottawa states that coal royalties received by the dominion government from school lands in Alberta and Saskatchewan from 1906 to 1921, amounted to the sum of $183,819.66.

A mass meeting of citizens held in Edmonton last week, passed resolutions expressing determination to cooperate with the Provincial Government in securing proper observance of the liquor laws of the province and congratulating the government and the members of the house in standing behind the Alberta Liquor Act. Sirport was pledged to E. S. Basher who is to be the official in charge of administration of the act under Attorney-General Brownlee.

The first penalty under the new liquor act amendments, for illegal possession of liquor, was imposed in Edmonton last week, when one man was fined the minimum of $50 and costs. The act now provides an alternative of the minimum of 10 days in jail the maximum fine being $200 and the maximum alternative sentence being two months in jail. In Muced last two months in jail.

According to a dispatch from Ottawa the dominion government since 1903 has sold a total of 364,000 acres of school lands in the province of Alberta, realising $13,201,000. This money is held in trust for the province.

Hon. W. V. Smith, minister of railways of the provincial government, announces that the government itself will do the construction work on the extensions this year to the E. D. & C. C. and the Canada Central in the Peace River and Grand Prairie sections. Mr. Smith's confidence the work can be done as cheaply by the government as by the C. P. R.

The new municipal hospital, at Viking has been recently opened. There are four one-bed rooms and three two-bed rooms in the hospital and it is one of the most modern of its kind. J. E. Krüger, chairman of the hospital board, has donated $200 towards equipment of a two-bed ward and Miss Duggan, the superintendent, refunded $50 of her salary towards equipment for maternity ward.

The new Superannuation Bill passed by the legislature, will not come into effect until July 1st, when the four per cent deduction from salaries of employees to provide the fund will commence. The government contributes also four per cent. Consideration for past services of many employees who have been with the government for years, is given in the provision that the government will provide one-fifth of the average salary of such employee for the term he has been in service. In this way, many employees will already have a considerable sum to their credit in the superannuation fund. The retirement age for male employees is 65 who retire from the government service for female employees 60. Those who retire from the government service before that time, can withdraw the amounts they have paid in, with 7 per cent interest. Thus the scheme provides a savings account feature.

HE GOT THE COYOTE

From the Yakima, Wash. Republic)
Ora Moore, a rancher and hunter of the Horse Heaven country, has abandoned a sure method of exterminating sheep eating coyotes. Incidentally, he is looking for the man who told him how to do it. Catching an old coyote in a sheep trap, Moore recognized a notorious creature whom he knew to be guilty, not only of sheep killing, but also stealing and eating his pigs and chickens.

Using the cunning old coyote as an experiment he resolved to try the sure scheme of destroying the male actor. Moore telephoned several neighbors to be on hand to witness his destruction. Subduing the coyote Moore tied an extra large stick of dynamite to the animal's tail, lighted the fuse and turned the brute loose.

Fully expecting to see the coyote make a long, dusty streak into the hills, Moore and his friends were hooked to watch the creature quickly disappear underneath the henhouse. No amount of yelling and revolver shots would dislodge it.

About three seconds elapsed when there was a great puff of dust and a roar, while the air was filled with feathers, pieces of fur, boards, straw and eggs from an 800-size incubator which was in the henhouse. When the atmosphere had cleared there was no trace of the coyote and only a clue or two of the coyote and its valued contents. Moore looked behind him to see his neighbors beating a hasty retreat.

The Russian Red Cross has been ordered from Moscow to carry on the appeal for funds in this country under some other name and not use the sign of the "Red Cross", is the information received in Canada from the International headquarters.

FARES PLEASE

To some people the art of life consists in evading the fare. Some steal a ride. On the lowest rung of the social ladder they are called tramps. Higher up they are often called clever.

Some ride on a pass. This pass is handed to them by others, usually ancestors, in the shape of money, position, or talent. Some one else pays their way, and they accept it complacently as the proper thing. No sense of debt goes with it. Fortunately, such a free trip in a Pullman is no longer regarded as a praise worthy achievement as it once was. The inheritance tax, the income tax, the corporation tax, each is a loud stentorian "Fares, Please." Some ride on a child's ticket. They pay half fare. To the world's demand for a strong man's stint of work and service they plead guilty. In fact they are only twenty years old and must be let off with giving to the world a half portion of their share. They do not ask to be carried to the skies on flowery beds of ease; all they ask is to be allowed to go in a perambulator.

Some pay. These are the ones who make the world morally solvent. They take no delight in dodging. Their lives are lifted out of triviality and insignificance by the ennobling power of a great obligation.—Halford E. Luccock.

One of the jobs of the ap. is the statistical estimate of 4,888 gallons of beer and spirits consumed in Canada during the year 1921. The unwritten estimates would no doubt open the eyes of the boys.

Alberta, the "Coal Bin of Canada," contains 14 per cent. of all the coal reserves of the world and about 87 per cent. of the coal deposits of Canada. The total reserve is estimated at 1,059,910,000,000 tons. Alberta's coal production in 1920 was 6,908,923 tons.

The recorded water power available throughout the Dominion under conditions of ordinary minimum flow and at 80 per cent efficiency, is 18,265,000 horse power, and for maximum development, double for at least six months of the year, is 32,076,000 horse power.

He wasn't what one might call a polished gentleman, but he took a great interest in the local school and sometimes dropped in to put a few questions to the youngsters. "Now," he said one occasion, pointing to one bright youngster, "what's the capital of Oland?" "H!" came the reply like a flash, and even the teacher's count failed to suppress the snigger that went rippling through the room.

In recent years no part of the British Empire has made greater strides in industrial development than Canada. The war induced a more rapid growth in industrial production than could have been reasonably expected in normal times. Today Canada reaps the reward of its wholehearted effort to assist the cause of the Allies; transformation from the active life of war to those of peace has been successfully accomplished, and speaking generally, industry in the Dominion is in a flourishing condition. Canadian education is also awake to new ideas, and young Canada need no longer cross the frontier to secure the advantages offered by a modern university.

The provincial government's decision to proceed immediately with an adequate programme of highway construction will be welcomed. The government has a big task before it, and the peculiar attractions of Alberta to tourists make it most desirable that the main highways of travel be brought to a higher state of perfection than they are.

Dominion Prohibition Turned Down

"I am not in favor of prohibition in anything but do favor temperance in everything," said Premier King to a delegation from the Dominion Alliance, which was urging Dominion prohibition. He assured the delegation that the government was ready to take any necessary steps to assist the province in enforcing their laws. The premier said that to ask the government to go before the house of commons knowing so little of the individual views of the members on the question might prove fatal to the very results which the delegation sought to achieve.

More Elevators Needed To Handle Increasing Grain Crops Of Canada

As one of the tremendous Canadian crops of 1921 wheat, derived from the usual channels which took it across the border, rushed to Canadian, Atlantic and Pacific ports, taxing their capacities to the limit, it is being heard in the demand for increased elevator accommodation. A new factor has entered into the situation giving Canada and Dominion ports greater control of the traffic and export of their own crop and it is recognized that vastly increased storage space is going to be needed to accommodate future crops pending their shipping.

The constant annual increases in the volume of Canada's grain crop has rendered imperative a corresponding yearly increase in elevator storage capacity, and each year more traffic has been accruing to the grain growing provinces. At the last time statistics were taken, Canada had 3,775 elevators with an aggregate capacity of 213,379,364 bushels. The insistent demand at the present time for elevators handling shipping points, but in the expectation of handling a greater proportion of Canadian grain at Canadian ports these terminals are facing the need of greater storage space. Though 1921 was for Canada a record grain handling year, more traffic has been accrued to her could more have been handled, and on both the Atlantic and Pacific a certain amount of business had to be refused. It is in this direction that expansion is planned.

The Harbor Commissioners at Montreal are working on plans for a grain elevator of ten million bushels capacity which will be the most capacious in the world, outshining by half a million bushels that elevator at Port Arthur which at present holds the honor. The growth of the volume of grain in and out of the Port of Montreal has made the construction of more elevator space absolutely essential, as during the past year, which exceeded in activity any previous year, it has been necessary to refuse to accept grain to be refused owing to lack of accommodation. The sudden effect of the United States tariff on Montreal traffic is revealed in the fact that it was considered that the present volume of grain traffic would not be reached until 1925 years and the present capacity, 10,550,000 bushels, considered adequate.

Additional elevator accommodation is to be provided for the port of Vancouver during the present year, and present plans. Here the need is serious, the present capacity of the port, 1,256,000 bushels, being inadequate and the capabilities of the port being severely strained in the past season. Vancouver entered upon a new era of activity when it was discovered that grain could be shipped without injury via the Panama Canal route to Europe, and an ever-increasing proportion of the grain "traffic" crop is destined to go out in that way. It is expected that by the end of the season about four million bushels of wheat will have left Vancouver, and only the lack of elevator accommodation prevents the handling of a greater volume.

It is announced that another million is to be added to Port William's capacity, and even the 55,000, 000 bushels accommodation of the Twin Ports is experiencing the strain of the lakes grain traffic on the way to the Atlantic. Vast stores of grain accumulate here during the rush season following the western harvest, and the congestion is relieved on the railroads by shipping the grain in specially constructed vessels across the lakes. A great volume of United States grain in the 1921 season reached Montreal by this route.

These items refer only to a somewhat extraordinary demand for terminal elevator accommodation. At the same time the ordinary increase of country elevators and inter-elevators contiguous to the harvest fields made necessary by the yearly swelling grain crop, is being met. And all this is making for increased activity in a hundred industrial lines in which this progress is reflected.

Fox Farming in P.E.I.

Fox farming produced a revenue of $12,400,000 in Prince Edward Island last year. This is nearly as much as the combined revenue of the province's fish and dairy productions. About 3,000 pairs of breeding foxes are on the island ranches, and last year's increase in young was 1,500. An average price of $600 per pair was obtained for 400 pairs of breeding foxes sold. Five thousand pelts were disposed of at an average price of $200 each.

Outlook for Cattle

Situation Likely to Improve Before a Great While Has Elapsed

While the outlook for cattle may not be the very brightest, with the ravages of disease in Britain, the unsettled state of Europe, and the embargo in France against British imports, there is likely to be some improvement ere long. The disturbance cannot go on indefinitely and something approaching normal conditions must return. Canada should be prepared to take advantage of the changed situation when it occurs. That some such views are held by the Dominion Livestock Commissioner is suggested by the remark in his comprehensive review of last year's trade, that "unless foot-and-mouth disease is soon controlled in Britain, it is probable that a continuation of the strict quarantine regulations will effect the movement of livestock and clear out the storage for fresh supplies." It is obvious that this would be beneficial to all classes of the trade and more than anything else bring supply and demand nearer to adjustment.

Further on in his report the commissioner says that unless reports and market conditions in the United States have been badly interpreted, Canadian cattle should make a much better showing than during last year. This should occur despite the Fordney tariff, for cattle authorities in the United States insist that there exists a shortage, and point as proof to the poor showing of certain of the heavy producing areas. Short supplies and strong markets are expected to materialize as a result. During the year last closed, the Dominion's livestock trade was less than satisfactory, and breeding has not yet had time to replace the animals sacrificed. Consequently with stocks exhausted and an improvement in economic conditions, which performance must come, there can hardly fail to be a betterment of the market.

The Shortage of Seed Oats

No. 1 Seed Reserved in Storage in Government Elevators

It may not be generally known that the best information obtainable points to a shortage of reliable seed oats for this spring's seeding. Reports reaching the Seed Commissioner at Ottawa through inspectors of the Seed Branch distributed over the country, as well as from individual seed growers through the Soldier Settlement Board, confirm this view. The Seed Purchasing Commission of the Seed Branch, because of the condition of last year's crop, anticipated this shortage and reserved in storage in government elevators in the western provinces, more than 600,000 bushels of No. 1 seed oats. Early in March a large proportion of this seed was already disposed of and shipped out, shipments reaching as far east as the Maritime Provinces. This seed is disposed of by the commission only in carloads and at the net cost of the retained seed.

Conditions in the seed trade show clearly that seed merchants throughout the country have been quick to meet their purchases of seed. Exports have proved time and time again that the early sown seed after proper conditions of planting arrive, bring much larger returns than that which goes later to the ground at a later date. It is equally important that the seed be of good variety and of prime quality. Both from the standpoint of the individual and of the country a maximum crop is needed. It is therefore clear that delays in securing adequate supplies of seed may result in disappointment and loss.

The Spirit of Youth

Busy people are the happiest, and having no time to worry about keeping young, usually manage to retain the spirit of youth for many years. And a leaf from their notebook will probably contain these valuable hints. Be vitally interested in something. Take lots of exercise out of doors. Eat sparingly.

Always sleep with windows open and take plenty of sleep and, above all, don't worry unnecessarily.

The British Spirit

Speaking at a dinner in Glasgow, Mr. de la Barra, Chilian Consul for Scotland, said the British spirit had so penetrated the national soul of the people of Chile that other countries in the New World had been unable to penetrate the national soul of the people of Chile that other countries in the New World had been unable to penetrate the national soul of the people of Chile.

By making your purchases from your home merchant you are contributing direct to the prosperity of the community in which you live.

Seed Production In The Western Provinces

Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia Provide Seed for Export

"With the extension and growth of seed growing in Canada a new industry of national importance has come to Canada to say." Such is the observation of an American writer who recently made a tour of this country. This authority also pays high tribute to the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture for the influence it has exerted in bringing about this state of things. After paying special attention to Alberta for that province's advance in seed production, particularly in oats, of which carloads are constantly being shipped to the United States, and in alfalfa, and to Saskatchewan's success with wheat, the writer remarks on the fact that in British Columbia the production of pure seed is a thriving industry and that flower seeds are now grown in that province and exported. In certain coast districts the provincial seed houses have established farms or arranged with local farmers to grow flower seed for the English and continental markets. Our authority adds: "When Canada is able to produce crops that far surpass the products of other countries, it must naturally follow that the seed from which these same prize-winning crops spring is of superior quality."

Stricter U.S. Immigration Laws

That United States immigration laws will be changed so that aliens will be required to live five years in contiguous territory before they can be admitted, is an announcement made by Chairman Johnson, of the house committee on immigration. This will check large numbers of aliens who, under the present law, remain in Canada, Mexico or Cuba for one year and then are eligible to enter the United States.

Paris Dangerous

Paris has the reputation of being the most dangerous city in the world for traffic fatalities. Of the 50,000 persons struck by taxicabs, automobiles and other automobiles during the last year, 100 died as a result of their injuries. A large proportion were women and children and aged persons.

Have You Ever Heard of a Horned Screamer?
"YOU will never guess, Stella, dear," said Snookums to the Wishing Fairy, "where we have been or what we have seen." "No, I don't think I can," the little Fairy answered. "So, tell me all about everything, I'm curious." "Well, to begin with," said Snookums, "we wandered away to the world where humans live and after several little adventures we found out that the South American 'W' is right at the bottom of a broad palm leaf with another leaf as a wall and along we skinned over the waters of the big Amazon River. When night came we were in a small boat, because there were no mosquitoes to bother us. It was much more floating around than being bitten to pieces by the horrid insects in some forest." "Will I ever forget my experience with mosquitoes once when I spent the night in the 'W'?" Stella asked. "Yes," laughed Stella, "you came home very much the worse for wear. Your eyes were all puffed up so that you could see and your body was so swollen that you could hardly move." "Pinske giggled as he thought of it, though he hadn't been bit at all at the time." "Not at all," said Stella. "Well," he said, "to go back to what we were going to tell you, Snookums, I learned all about a very remarkable bird it is called a 'Horned Screamer'. It is gray-black above with white streaks and has a circle of naked skin around the eyes and on top of its head is a horn about four inches long—a soft one—a hard one. It's sort of floppy." "Horned Screamer?" "And what color legs?" asked Stella. "The little Brownie had quietly joined the group for fear he might be missing something." "The Screamer's legs are the prettiest things about it," replied Snookums. "They are brilliant red." "But," Pinske exclaimed joyfully, who, like most people, loves to talk, "I shall tell you a remarkable thing of a Screamer! On the front corner of each wing are two terribly sharp spurs that are used when fighting." "What usually lies between one skin and flesh?" "Snookums." "Oh, yes," he laughed. "This is amazing. What do you suppose lies between the skin and the flesh of the Screamer?" "As there was no answer to his question he suddenly looked very mysterious." "What usually lies between one skin and flesh?" "Snookums." "Pinske answered Lorykina, who had snickered up to listen. 'Fat; any one knows that!'" "You're quite correct," Pinske replied, "and in your own particular case you are a fat little fellow." "You, greedy Lorykina found uncomfortable, for if there is anything he is besides being sleepy and hungry—he is fat!"

Housekeeper's Corner

Hints That Will Help to Make Work Easier

Before cleaning damp boots add about two drops of paraffin to the polish. This will make them shine. Warm your knifeboard before rubbing knives, and they will clean "in half the time." Charcoal is excellent for polishing brass.

After peeling onions rub the hands with a little salt, then wash in cold water. This will remove the smell. When mending old stockings never use new unshrunk wool as this enlarges the hole in the stocking held over a steaming kettle for a short time before being used.

If drawers and cupboards are frequently sprinkled with spirits of turpentine moths will keep away.

Complexity Of Myriad Types To Be Found Among Western Farmers

The Mounted Police

Name Stands for Law and Order Over a Vast Territory

From London comes a report that the Canadian Government intends to disband the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. It is to be hoped that the report is not well founded. No force in Canada or anywhere else has enjoyed so remarkable a reputation for efficiency as has the "Mounted." Its name has been for 50 years and more a synonym for the maintenance of law and order and its fame has gone far beyond the borders of the Dominion. From the 49th parallel of the Arctic Circle it has been the symbol and instrument of the law's authority and it has been a powerful force in the peaceful development of the vast territory west of the lakes. Provincial organizations have grown up in the region once known as "the territory," but it has yet to be shown that the need for such a force as the Mounted Police has passed. There remains a vast unpopulated area which must be policed, and who should police it but the men who have done the business for half a century and have done it in a manner which has been the wonder and the admiration of other lands? Nor has the usefulness of the force been confined to the preservation of order in these distant places. Its activities have been manifold and of great service to the country, and these activities ought not, we think, to be discontinued. There are interests and influences in Canada which would hail with satisfaction the disappearance of the Mounted Police, but they are interests and influences which menace the well-being of the Dominion. To disband the Mounted in these circumstances would be a poor economy.—The Montreal Gazette.

A Mammoth Searchlight

Most Powerful Light Ever Made by Man

Man in Atlantic Coast has been able to make has just been set up on the Atlantic coast of the United States. It is a giant searchlight which shines with a light of 1,500 million candlepower.

No other searchlight has been made with so large a lens, which is 60 inches across. The United States Government is planning to make others like it to be placed along the coast and used for coast defense. Before this new light was built, the brilliant light of the Helgoland lighthouse, in the North Sea, was looked upon as the wonder of the world. Its light could be seen by ships 35 miles away. It consisted of three electric searchlights, and the expense of keeping it up was enormous. The Helgoland light is now quite "in the shade," however, for the new light is 30 times as powerful. Perhaps you did not know that one candlepower, which is the standard for testing brilliancy of light, is the light of a sperm-oil candle seven-eighths of an inch in diameter, weighing six to the pound, and burning 120 grams of wax in an hour. How the searchlight, which is the standard for testing brilliancy of light, is the light of a sperm-oil candle seven-eighths of an inch in diameter, weighing six to the pound, and burning 120 grams of wax in an hour. Japanese Have Coast Charted and Mapped

Interesting Information Given at Ottawa by Hon. H. H. Stevens

The Japanese have every foot of the Pacific coast charted and mapped, which would be a great benefit to them if the growing tendency of the Orientals to move towards the Pacific increases, stated Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., who spoke at Ottawa recently. His subject was Asiatic Immigration.

The speaker contended that the Oriental problem was one that required careful consideration as it was one of the most vital difficulties which Canada had to face. Even in some of the centres of population in Canada the people were becoming to realize that the Orientals provided a problem that required serious consideration. British Columbia has been in constant fear that the influx might be relaxed and the regulations commuted.

Rope Seven Miles Long

There are ropes now in use that exceed in length and weight the one at Milwaukee, claimed by Americans as the largest in the world. During the last few years several British firms have produced ropes over seven miles long, weighing more than thirty tons. One was seven and a half miles long, and weighed fifty tons.

People often refer to the Western Canadian farmer as though he constituted a type. Nothing could be further from the truth, and the mistake could only be made by those who have never visited the areas of the Western Canadian provinces, slowly being reared productive, and have not had intimate contact with the men who are effecting this.

Western Canada is still a territory. In a state of transition where the process of shaking down and leveling is still in progress, and its people accordingly comprise a collection of classes and castes, the complexity of a myriad types and a wide variety of characteristics, all fused into a perfect democracy. Some characteristics, they have in common, certainly, such as the born of an invigorating, and a land in which the force of the life's demand for quick action and rapid thinking, but the impression of sameness is entirely absent and the individual is still the individual. This is the life of the natural. Western Canada has become the Mecca of the land-hungry and for those seeking the independence which the land can assure. It is the goal of peoples led by the same dream from the corners of the globe, a bourse of many new ideas, a land in which each man and one's capabilities is created anew.

Such instincts and desires are not limited to people of one appearance, one caste, or one intellectual capacity, but to the entire race. The Western lands run the entire gamut of human type and trait. They are of every conceivable class and kind, differing in the individual but alike in spirit and endeavor.

It is probably safe to say that the majority of men farming the western provinces have not been farmers all their lives. It is both interesting and significant, certainly, to note that many of these who have come to the top of the Dominion's premier agriculturists had no conception of land activities previous to going to the west. A great proportion undoubtedly adopted farming after having reached maturity. Deep in the hearts of most men there is a love of the land and of the life of the open.

Those who are to be found in Western Canada form an elect band. Many left trades and professions after years of pursuit, often purely for distaste for these callings. Many more, despite the fact that the true fundamental of the west is the land, and seeing the enviable position of people in old countries whose ancestors were pioneer land settlers, are building up homes to be their posterity's for all time.

They are men who have seen the same vision and followed it; who dream the same dreams and often see their fulfilment in their lifetimes. Were there more genuine thinkers, more men courageous enough to follow their convictions, more actuated by a desire to do the best for themselves and families and to build up prosperity for many lives to come, there would be more settlers upon Western Canada's fertile prairie. As it is, there are still there for an enviable band of thinkers and workers to whom posterity will owe much gratitude.

Best Feed for Laying Hens Boiled or steamed oats is one of the best whole grain feeds that can be given to laying hens. For laying hens it is most excellent. It is not only a splendid feed but not only is good for the laying hen but is fine for the young chickens after they are about two weeks old.

A new man got a job as a porter on a railway train, and one of his first duties was to learn the rules, as laid down in the rule book of the railway for the safety of the train and passengers. He prided himself on knowing them perfectly. One night the conductor going through the sleeping car noticed a red lantern hanging in the passage way. He called the new porter and asked him what the red lantern was doing there. "Why chief," said the porter, "I was just carrying out the rules." "Never heard of any rule calling for a red lantern in a sleeping car," answered the conductor. "Where did you get it from?" With an air of perfect positiveness, the new porter got out his book of rules and pointed out Rule 27—"Caution—Always hang out a red lantern when the rear end of a sleeper is exposed."—Ex.

DOINGS IN THE LEGISLATURE

Issued by the Publicity Commissioner, Government Buildings, Edmonton.

The first session of the new legislature was brought to a close on Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, when the lieutenant-governor prorogued the house. It is expected that a short fall session will be held to deal with the matter of the income tax.

A total of 98 bills was passed during the session. This is somewhat larger in number than formerly, but this year the new government adopted the practice of introducing many of the small amending acts as separate bills, instead of grouping them all together in one bill known as the Statute Law Amendments, which was generally the custom. This made a larger number of bills than in former years, but it provided a more convenient method of dealing with legislation and a more convenient method of reference in future.

During the last hours of the session, a division occurred on the first reading of the act, to provide a tax on gasoline, which resulted in a vote of 40 to 9 for the act. The act imposes a tax of 2 cents a gallon, to be collected from the first vendor of the gasoline in the province.

The southern Alberta relief act was passed through, an amendment being submitted by the Attorney-General limiting liability of farmers for seed, twine and labor to $500.

In providing for the suspension of the operation of the medical profession act for one year so far as chiropractors were concerned, Attorney-General Brownlee made provision against any wholesale influx of chiropractors to the province, by making it possible for resident chiropractors to secure interim licenses for the year from the registrar of the university, on production of evidence that they are graduates of recognized chiropractic schools. Incoming chiropractors must do the same.

During the session a large number of returns covering many phases of government were asked for by members, some of these returns asked for toward the close of the session are not yet completed, but all the returns brought down will be printed in the journals of the session. Returns asked for during the final week of the session, included one by Mr. Mitchell in connection with the maintenance of civilian patients in the Central Alberta sanatorium, and the cost thereof, one by Mr. Mitchell relative to the amounts spent in the special trust account for roadwork for certain units in the Bow Valley riding. L. Proudfoot asked for returns respecting distribution of hay in Acadia riding last year, and one from Mr. Proudfoot respecting the amounts spent in advertising in the years 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921, up to the end of August.

To Mr. Proudfoot, Mr. Smith stated that twenty ballast cars had been purchased by the late government during 1921 for use on the A. & G. W. These had cost $2,848.94 each and were now valued at $400 to $500 each.

Farmer and Mortgage Company.—Contrary to an erroneous impression which has become prevalent in the province concerning the amendments just passed to the land titles act affecting mortgages, these amendments do not give any unusual rights to mortgage companies or other mortgagees as against mortgagors. In fact, the amendments make no change in the situation as between a mortgagee and a mortgagor, but simply define a prior right of a mortgagee over other creditors.

Hon. J. E. Brownlee has issued the following statement in this connection. He states that this legislation is part of his program to assist the farmer to carry on at present, and that he has the assurance of the mortgage and loan companies that they will stand by the government in this effort. Mr. Brownlee's statement follows:

ment follows:

"My attention has been called to certain comments in the press as to the effect of the legislation recently passed by way of amendments to the Land Titles Act affecting mortgages. The impression seems to be that the effect of these amendments is to give mortgage companies rights which they have never heretofore had. This is entirely erroneous. Until the case of Hyde vs. Chapin, heard by the appellate court of Alberta on January 26th, 1916, it was accepted by everyone that the attornment clause in our mortgages had the same effect as under the English mortgages and mortgage companies frequently exercised their powers under the attornment clause without question from either the mortgagor or other creditors. In the case of Hyde vs. Chapin however, a conflict arose between a mortgagee and the execution creditor as to which was entitled to the proceeds of a certain crop and the court held, for the first time that on account of our Torrens System of Title a mortgagee did not acquire the same legal estate as under the real property laws in force in England and the other provinces. This decision did not affect the relationship between the mortgagor and mortgagee but did not allow other creditors to acquire a prior right to the crops grown on mortgaged lands to those of the mortgagee. The following clause is taken from the judgment of the Appellate Court, "No doubt the clause is valid as creating contractual rights between the parties and the mortgagee by virtue of the license given him may sustain if there is no legal impediment in his way." This clearly indicates that where any creditor intervenes the mortgagee may enforce the attornment clause as against the mortgagor.

As soon as this decision became public the province of Saskatchewan enacted the same legislation as was passed at the recent session.

The whole purpose of this legislation is to protect the mortgagee as against other creditors and in enacting the legislation the whole desire was to protect the owner of the land so that he would no longer be in the position that however willing and anxious he might be to pay his interest and protect his land against foreclosure, if he had other creditors they might by obtaining judgment and seizing the crop, prevent any payment being made to the mortgage company with the result that the company had no other course open but foreclosure. It is expected that the effect of this legislation will be to greatly reduce the number of foreclosures in the province.

Testimony to the improved conditions which these amendments will create with respect to farmers and their relations with loan companies is given in one letter which Mr. Brownlee has received from a prominent Calgary law firm, in which the writer says "The step you have taken in putting through amendments will have done much to re-establish confidence. Personally, I believe it will stop all foreclosures save in cases where the lands have been abandoned. The mortgage companies have never desired to put a farmer off his land but the law as previously existing gave loan companies no alternative when steps had to be taken for their protection. This new legislation helps both the farmer and the loan company. It will enable the farmer to protect his farm and will not leave him helpless and at the mercy of other creditors, and with the assurance of a fair rental, the loan companies will have every inducement to carry the mortgage over bad times."

The Stanton branch of the Red Cross recently held a very successful auction of a fancy quilt, the proceeds of which were given towards the work.

North And South Reach New Agreement For Peace In Ireland

London.—Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, announced in the House of Commons the terms of the most important agreement yet reached between the representatives of the northern and southern governments in Ireland for bringing about peace in the strife-torn country.

The agreement which was reached with unexpected expedition at a conference between delegates of the Irish government and representatives of the imperial government, Air Transcendence in importance the pact arrived at between Michael Collins, head of the Provisional Government, and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, at an earlier stage in the negotiations. It provides for the reorganization of the police in Ulster on a basis satisfactory to the religious leanings of the people of the north and south; for the trial of persons charged with serious offenses by a special court composed of the highest justice, for general co-operation between the north and south of a most promising character, and for assistance from the British Parliament to remedy the unemployment difficulties in Belfast, which rendered the carrying out of the previous Craig-Collins pact almost impossible.

The terms of the Irish agreement as announced in the House of Commons by Winston Spencer Churchill, the imperial secretary for war, are as follows:

First.—Peace is today declared.

Second.—From today the two governments undertake to co-operate in every way, in their power with a view to the restoration of peaceful conditions in the unsettled areas.

Third.—The police in Belfast are to be organized in general accordance with the following conditions:

(1) Special police in mixed districts to be composed half of Catholics and half of Protestants. All special not required for these forces to be withdrawn to their homes and surrender their arms.

(2) An advisory committee composed of Catholics will assist in the selection of Catholic recruits for the special recruits.

(3) All police on duty, except the usual secret service men, to be uniformed and officially numbered.

(4) All arms and ammunition issued to the police to be deposited in barracks in charge of a military or other competent officer when police men are not on duty, and an official record must be kept of all arms issued and ammunition used.

(5) Any search for arms is to be carried out by a police force composed half of Catholics and half of Protestants, the military rendering any necessary assistance.

Amendment To Dominion Elections Act Affecting The Franchise Of Women

Ottawa.—The first private member's motion of the session was carried without division in the House and will entail an amendment to the Dominion Elections Act, affecting the franchise of women. The enfranchisement to the foreign-born woman, naturalized by marriage to a Canadian, was particularly at issue. Under a subsection of the act as it stands, such a woman must be born on the continent of North America must obtain a certificate from a judge before she is entitled to vote.

W. D. Euler (Liberal, North Waterloo), led the discussion. As he has done in previous sessions, Mr. Euler sought an expression of opinion from

Basilica of St. Anne Destroyed by Fire

Short Circuit in Electric Wiring Said to Be Cause

Quebec.—As a result of the fire which broke out at St. Anne de Beaupre only the gable ends of the majestic cathedral which marked the site of the far-famed shrine, where pilgrims have worshipped for more than three centuries, are left standing. While the monastery and the college are also a smoking ruin, debris. The monetary loss involved is estimated at $1,200,000, while the insurance carried will probably reach the sum of $500,000.

Although no definite plans have yet been announced by the Redemptorist Fathers, it was stated that as soon as possible work will be started to rebuild the venerable pile and it was said that it would be constructed on a larger and even more imposing scale than the building which has just been destroyed. The cause of the fire is attributed to a short circuit in the electric wiring.

Research Work to Counteract Grasshoppers

Looking for Diminution of this Menace in the West

Ottawa.—A diminution of the grasshopper menace in the western provinces during the coming crop season is looked for by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, according to surveys given to a question in the House by O. R. Gould (Assiniboia).

Hon. W. R. Motherwell stated that in Manitoba from evidence at hand it was anticipated that grasshoppers would be less in evidence than they were during 1921. In Saskatchewan a further outbreak was expected, but the chief outbreak apparently would be in Alberta in which province there was a heavy egg deposition in 1921, which, it was expected, would result in an important infestation of hoppers in 1922, particularly in the sections immediately north of the main line of the Canadian-Northern Railway.

It was the intention of the Government to continue research work with a view to finding means to counteract the damage caused by the grasshoppers, wheat stem sawfly, rust and cut worm.

Further experiments with chloroform as an insect destroyer would not be made, as previous experiments with this gas indicated that the remedy was too expensive, Mr. Motherwell added.

Registered Bonds Discarded by Thieves

Police Recover $3,450 Stolen From Bank at Ladner, B.C.

Vancouver.—City police recovered bonds worth $3,450, proceeds of a robbery which netted thieves, who looted the Royal Bank at Ladner, B.C., securities to the value of more than $50,000. The recovered bonds which were registered and apparently discarded by the robbers, are difficult to dispose of, were lying in the stolen automobile which the robbers used in their raid on the bank. The car belonging to Winston Staples, of Ladner, was left at the rear of an apartment house in Vancouver where Mr. Staples' daughter resides. The exact value of the loot has not been established but a partial list by officials indicates that at least $25,000 worth of the stolen securities were easily negotiable.

Death of Sir John C. Eaton

Death of Sir John C. Eaton

Toronto's Merchant Prince Succumbs to Influenza After Gallant Fight

Toronto.—Sir John C. Eaton is dead after a gallant and remarkable fight for over a period of about six weeks. He was 66 years old.

Lady Eaton, wife of Sir John; Mrs. Timothy Eaton, his mother and widow of the founder of the immense department store in which Sir John was president; Timothy Eaton, the 35-year-old son who arrived from England only last week, together with other relatives and officials of the Eaton interests, were near at hand when death came.

Sir John took a chill in February while on a business trip to Montreal and New York. This developed into influenza, followed by complications. The most skillful physicians on the continent were summoned to the bedside.

During the week ending March 18, Sir John rallied considerably, and the physicians, while retaining a conservative attitude regarding his condition, ceased the issuance of daily bulletins. It was with something of a shock that the intimation was received that Sir John was again in a critical condition.

Sir John Craig Eaton was regarded as Toronto's biggest multimillionaire. The interests of which he was the head has ramifications in many parts of Canada, Great Britain and foreign countries. He was prominent in philanthropic and patriotic work. He was born in Toronto in 1876, and succeeded his father as head of the company in 1907.

Lady Eaton and four young sons and one daughter survive; also Mrs. Timothy Eaton, mother of Sir John; one brother and two sisters.

Sir John Craig Eaton, K.B., generally supposed to be Toronto's wealthiest citizen, was born in Toronto, April 28, 1876. His father was the late Timothy Eaton, founder of the extensive business with important interests in a number of cities of the Dominion including, Montreal, Moncton, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Toronto and Regina.

British Minister of Agriculture Says Statement Not True

London.—In the House of Commons a member alleged that home-bred cattle, sheep and pigs were rapidly deteriorating and becoming infected with tuberculosis. He urged that removal of Canadian cattle embargo be undertaken so as to allow healthy cattle and other stock to enter this country.

Sir A. Griffith Boscawen, minister of agriculture, emphatically denied the allegations about the deterioration of English stock and his denial was cheered.

Washington.—The situation along the Canadian border created by the activities of liquor smugglers is improving somewhat but not as fast as the United States prohibition enforcement department desires, according to J. P. Jones, assistant prohibition commissioner, who appeared before the House immigration Committee to advocate deportation of aliens who persistently violate the law, as a means of breaking up the business of the bootleggers. He also advocated the application of similar measures toward offenders under the narcotic laws to curb illicit traffic in drugs, the extent of which is international.

Miners Narrowly Escape Suffocation

Doors Governing Air in Caledonia Colliery Were Jammed

Sydney, N.S.—Four hundred miners in Caledonia Colliery were placed in imminent peril of suffocation by an alleged instance of sabotage in the mining district of Glace Bay. The men were about to begin work, when inspectors discovered that two large doors governing the flow of air through the passages had been "sprung" or jammed, so that no fresh air was being pumped into the working section of the mine, with the result that the atmosphere was rapidly becoming foul and fatal to human beings.

Paris.—The Allied Supreme Council is likely to meet again in the near future, it is believed here, as a result of the German chancellor's refusal of conditions attached by the reparations commission to the moratorium granted Germany on her reparations payments.

The Chancellor's reply will come before the reparations commission first, but that body, lacking the power to take any coercive measures, will again refer the question to the Allies.

Too many complications are involved, it is believed, to permit of an agreement on a plan of action being reached through the Allied diplomatic representatives, and it is thought in the best informed Allied circles that Premier Poincaré, therefore, will probably be obliged to consent to a meeting of the supreme council. An exchange of views will take place preparatory to this meeting, which may precede the general Geneva conference.

The French semi-official opinion is that Chancellor Wirth has been obliged to switch his position as did Dr. Simons before him, in order to maintain his majority, and that he has become thoroughly committed to resistance to the Allies.

To Represent Canada at Rome

W. A. Wilson, of Regina, Will Attend Meeting of World Agriculturists

Regina, Sask.—W. A. Wilson, general manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries, has been appointed one of two delegates to represent Canada at the forthcoming conference of world agriculturists to be held in Rome, Italy.

The appointment of the two delegates is made by the Dominion Government, and Mr. Wilson has just received advice of his appointment. He will leave here about April 15 en route to the sunny south, to take part in this most important conference.

One of the most important questions likely to be discussed at this session of the conference will be the advisability or organizing a wheat pool which will be able to exercise some kind of control on the prices of the world markets.

Mr. Wilson was formerly dairy commissioner for the Government of Saskatchewan.

Doubt Reported Death of Lenin

Conflicting Stories Being Told of Russian Soviet Premier

London.—A Central News despatch from Tientsin says that a report that Nikolai Lenin, Russian Soviet premier, is dead, is published by the Rome newspapers, who treat it with reserve.

Lenine has been reported dead or seriously ill on several occasions. One of the latest stories was that a German specialist was being rushed to Moscow to treat him for an internal disease resulting from wounds inflicted three years ago by an assassin. Another version was that he was suffering from cancer, but a Moscow despatch to the Associated Press told of his appearance before a meeting of the all-Russian Communist Congress in the Kremlin Palace, at which he spoke for two hours.
